

TOPIC: TECHNICAL SOLUTIONS TO INCREASE EFFICIENCY

QUESTION: Are there any special requirements or needs for this technology?

“You have to check the operating system you want to run, you have to check the end user license agreement whether you’re allowed to run it in a virtual environment. There’s only a couple versions that you’re allowed to run in a virtual environment. It’s not a technical, it’s a legal requirement. Let’s say I have a physical machine and I’m running three different servers, I still need, legally, a license for each one of those servers. I can’t run the same license on all three ‘cause that would be violating the license agreement.”
